POLITICAL SQUABBLE IN HENRICO AGAIN

Two Meetings Held at Yellow Tavern School and Two Delegates Chosen.

EACH SIDE MAKES CHARGES

Barton Heights Wants Bryan, but Does Not Favor Iron-clad Instructions.

Henrico has returned to the arena. For some months, since the recent upheaval in which the Ins were thrown out and the Outs went in, politics has been quiescent in the county, but experienced hands have not lost their skill, according to the varied reports of a Democratic precinct meeting held at Yellow Tavern School last night to elect a delegate to the State convention at Roanoke. Accounts of what happened differ widely, but agree on the essential fact that there was a serious split, and that instead of one meeting and one delegate there were two meetings and two delegates.

At the first meeting, held at the Yellow Tavern School, Mr. C. W. Childrey, each of whom will go to Roanoke claiming to represent the Barton Heights and Bruns' Precincts in Brookland District.

According to the followers of Mr. Throckmorton, who is a member of the State Legislature, the meeting which named him was the only regular meeting, and he is the only representative of the two precincts whose claim is valid. At 8:10 P. M. after having waited ten minutes to make sure that everybody had opportunity to get in, the precinct leaders called for the roll, and Mr. Throckmorton was made permanent chairman. On the call for nominations the name of Mr. Throckmorton was presented and no other. Mr. Throckmorton then declared that Mr. Throckmorton unanimously elected, directed the secretary to issue a certificate to the delegate chosen. The secretary was Mr. A. B. Childrey, a son of Mr. C. W. Childrey. There were thirty-five people present at this meeting, according to the Throckmorton side.

"When the meeting was about to begin," said Mr. Throckmorton last night, "I was proclaimed chairman. I then called the roll and called for the roll, and I heard Mr. C. W. Childrey tell his father, who was standing outside, to come in. Apparently he did not do so, for after the meeting was over, Mr. C. W. Childrey, with several people entered the hall and called for a new meeting, declaring that they did not know that the election was in progress. Everything had been done in regular order, in a perfectly open manner, and the chairman refused to give a new meeting. Mr. Childrey people then met and elected Mr. Childrey. I understand there were about ten people present."

Blanes Solomon. Another account comes from Mr. B. L. Purcell, of Glen Allen, who is disposed to lay all the blame on Mr. Simon Solomon, former sheriff of the county, and boss of Henrico up to the time of his defeat in the last election, after which it was said that Mr. Solomon had retired from politics, and moved into Richmond. Mr. Purcell gave the following story of the happenings of the evening, so far as he witnessed them:

"There were twenty-three of us standing about on the outside of the Yellow Tavern schoolhouse, waiting for the meeting to open. While we were talking and waiting for others to arrive, ex-Sheriff Simon Solomon got his crowd together inside, and without letting us know, held a meeting and elected Mr. C. W. Throckmorton. We went in when we found out what was going on, asked for a fair meeting, and told them we wanted to have a hand in it, and to help to elect Mr. Throckmorton or some one else. Mr. Simon Solomon said he didn't think it would be legal to reopen the meeting after the convention had adjourned, and he advised his party to go on home. There were ten voters from the two precincts in the Solomon meeting."

"We concluded that we hadn't been given a square deal, so we called the meeting to order, elected Mr. C. W. Childrey chairman, and Mr. E. J. Tracy, secretary. Mr. C. W. Childrey was elected delegate to Roanoke by a unanimous vote of the twenty-three present, all of whose names were recorded, and all of whom are registered voters in either Hungary or Bruns' Precincts."

BIG MAN CRIED ON WAY TO JAIL

Negro Beat His Wife in Face With Shoe—Henrico Murder Trial Postponed.

While being escorted yesterday evening to the Henrico County Jail, Eddie Taylor, a young colored man, cried all the way, and was still weeping, whether from remorse, self-pity, or what-not, when the door of his cell was closed upon him.

The arrest was made by Constable Temple, who afterward arrested at Brittle's dairy a negro charged with being of unsound mind.

Smith Case Postponed. Cyrus Smith, who stands charged with the murder of William Murphy, at the Acca stock farm, last March, was taken before Judge B. Carter Scott, in the Henrico Circuit Court, yesterday morning, but the case was formally postponed until July 9th.

In Barton Heights. In Barton Heights all was peace and harmony, though several hundred voters representing Jones precinct, Barton Heights and Chestnut Hill, were gathered in the school building, Mr. S. P. Jones was made permanent chairman, and Mr. S. M. O'Bannon, secretary. Mr. W. H. Hagland, of Barton Heights, and Mr. W. H. Tiller, of Jones precinct, were elected delegates to the convention, with Mr. Sidney M. O'Bannon and Mr. W. T. Christian as alternates.

When the matter of instructions came up, the following resolutions were offered by the Rev. Dr. R. H. Pitt, and were adopted unanimously:

"The Democrats of these precincts hereby put on record their sincere and increasing respect for the great commoner, the patriotic statesman and able publicist, William Jennings Bryan, and hereby express the earnest hope that he may be nominated as the Democratic candidate for President at the approaching national convention; and we respectfully request our delegates to the State convention to vote for men and measures favorable to this result."

At the same time we do hereby adopt instructions which will bind the representatives of the Democracy of the State as to leave them utterly without freedom of action in the event that new and unforeseen conditions arise in the national convention.

"It is, therefore, our hope that the State convention will plainly record its preference for Mr. Bryan, and will request our delegates to the national convention to support his nomination as long as that seems possible, and will content themselves with this action in the matter of instructions."

Other Elections. In Tuckahoe District, entitled to but one delegate, the honor fell to Mr. Caskie Smith, who was instructed as to candidates. In Fairfield District, Mr. C. W. Hechler was elected at a meeting held at the Highland Springs schoolhouse last night.

Mr. John Angle, a son of the late Magistrate Myer Angle, and Magistrate George W. Thomas, were the unsuccessful candidates.

Councilman Mills May Leave Us

Appealing for relief which could not be legally granted by that branch of the city government, citizens of the West End appeared before the Council Committee an Annexed Territory last night, asking for sewers. One complainant remarked that pipes had been laid in streets upon which there were no houses. Chairman Mills asked him to specify.

"I know where they are, but I don't remember the names at the moment," said the citizen. "However, I will bring them to you later."

"I don't think the records will show

WIDEN AVENUE TO ROSENEATH ROAD

Plan Calls for Additional Improvements as Far Out as Sheppard Line.

140 FEET WIDE AND STRAIGHT

Total Cost Will Be $62,413, Subject to Approval by City Council.

Plans for opening and extending Monument Avenue from the Boulevard west to Roseneath Road were adopted by the Council Committee on Annexed Territory last night, the entire work to cost $62,413.18. The report, which will be sent to City Council next week, provides that the avenue shall be opened to a width of 140 feet from the Boulevard to the Sheppard line, a distance of 900 feet, and put in the same condition as the avenue east of the Boulevard. From the Sheppard line to Roseneath Road, the avenue will merely be enlarged to a width of 140 feet, without other improvements at this time.

To put in granite curb, gutters, sewer, water, gas and other proper improvements from the present end of the avenue to the Sheppard line, will cost $28,558.59. There is only one house on the thoroughfare, now owned by Briggs, at the southwest corner of Sheppard Street, which was appraised at $4,000. The sale of the material, however, will reduce the price to $2,500. On this basis it was necessary to secure parts of private lots. The commission which conducted the examination has submitted its report, the figures being accepted by the committee as a basis upon which to work, though the award has not been approved by the court.

Cost of Private Property. From the Sheppard line to Roseneath Road, a distance of 1,550 feet, the property owned by eighteen citizens, had to be trimmed in order to get the proper width of 140 feet. It will not be possible at this point, however, to put in sidewalks, sewers and the like, the appropriation being limited. This section will probably be taken care of next year. The money considerations within this area, as taken from City Attorney Pollard's report, are as follows:

W. A. Brody	$ 308.18
Benjamin Alperin	692.75
J. L. Bunting	1,314.34
S. B. Woolfin	1,226.37
R. Mitchell and C. L. Burnett	2,303.04
Mrs. Alice T. Walsch	1,869.70
George L. Emmons	3,125.00
Ernest Ochsendorfer and Paul Well and wife	1,280.05
Frank L. Hawkins	1,252.42
R. M. Lynn	540.09
Miss Nellie Garthright	24.82
Joe Lane, attorney, trustee, Sheppard St.	7,720.00
John Fields	8.20
Mrs. M. R. Peters	48.35
W. H. Adams	432.37

Chairman Mills said that unless the condemnation figures are reduced it is probable that work will begin as soon as the necessary ordinances have been adopted. When completed, Monument Avenue will be one of the finest thoroughfares in the South, beginning at the Stuart Hotel, Chamberlayne Street, extending through to Roseneath Road, which marks the corporate limits.

any work of this kind," said Chairman Mills. "If you will show me that you are correct in the statement I will let a rock around my neck and jump off the Free Bridge."

Alderman Satterfield was alarmed. "I trust, brother," he said, "that you won't have to do it, but if it comes to that, I will have Charles H. Richards with a boat to pick you up."

Phillips, now chairman of the Theological Seminary, formerly physical director of the Covington Gymnasium and of Richmond College.

CONVICT SHOT TO DEATH BY GUARD

Murderer Makes Dash for Liberty at State Farm, but Is Discovered.

REFUSED TO HEED COMMAND

Mortally Wounded, Ran Nearly Hundred Yards, and Then Fell Dead.

Wilson Bryant, a convict at the State Farm, serving a life term for murder, made a bold attempt to escape on Monday shortly before midnight, and was shot and almost instantly killed by one of the guards in charge of the prison quarters. Bryant, who was in the prison, turned back when the guard was trained on him, before he could scale the wire stockade over which Bryant climbed.

Unruly Prisoner.

To the prison officials Bryant was known as a dangerous and unruly man, having made an effort to escape from the farm last summer, when he was away an entire night before being recaptured. He had been heard to remark more than once that he intended getting away. When his brother, John Bryant, was convicted of murder in Dickinson county, Wilson was condemned to die, while his brother John got an eighteen-year term in prison. Governor A. J. Montague later commuted the sentence of the elder brother to life imprisonment, and he entered the penitentiary at the age of thirty-one years, working for some time in the shoe shops. With an unruly, quarrelsome and rebellious disposition, he was in almost constant trouble with the guards. Last spring he and his brother were both transferred to the state farm, both being men of frail constitution, with evidence of consumptive tendencies.

Carefully Planned.

The last attempt to escape was evidently carefully planned, the two men having staid with shoe polish and oil, the stripes of their prison suits, and the tuberculous camp to occur at the precise moment when the guard was at the extreme end of his beat. Just as Bryant got to the top of the stockade, his figure standing out clearly against the night, Guard Hubbard saw him and called him to come down. He made a jump for the outer side, but before he could scramble to his feet and start to run a charge of buckshot had followed him.

Fatally wounded, he ran away into the darkness, his body being found in a kneeling position near a hundred yards from the guard called. He died before he could be taken to the infirmary, serving an eighteen year term. He entered the prison in November, 1903, from Scott county.

Stopped Others.

Perfect discipline was maintained at the farm, the entire force of guards turning out at once at the sound of the whistle.

Superintendent Davis says that the action of Guard Hubbard in firing after ordering the convict down from the stockade was exactly in accordance with the instructions, and that it was a prevented others from joining in the break for liberty.

LAMBERT PEOPLE TO GO TO COURT?

Not Much Credence Given to Story Circulating at City Hall Yesterday.

Whether or not the meter contract fight will end with the report of the Water Committee yesterday, a report having reached the City Hall to the effect that in the event the Council approves the Keystone award the Lambert people will apply to the courts for an injunction. This would be something of a legal novelty.

The committee gave the contract to the Pittsburgh Meter Company for 1,000 Keystone machines at $7.50 each. The same size type at $7.14, but he declined to say whether the difference in price, Meter Inspector Hutchinson, however, put the Keystone at the head of the list in value, and the committee, members of the City Council said yesterday that they could stand by the award, regardless of the pleas of attorneys who, as representatives of the manufacturers of the Lambert meter, contended that it was to the interest of the taxpayers to award the contract to the lowest bidder.

Writ of Error Granted.

In the case of Arthur Stanley, charged with killing Jack Foster at the home of Sarah Smith, in Franklin county, a writ of error and supersedeas was granted in the Supreme Court of Virginia yesterday. Stanley was convicted in the second degree, and was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. All the men present at the shooting had been drinking, but it is claimed that Foster attacked Stanley with a knife before the latter fired the fatal shot.

Physician's Pay Reduced.

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Henrico yesterday it was decided to reduce the salary of the almshouse physician from $250 to $150 a year. There were two applicants for the position, and the vote stood 2 to 2. Those applying are Dr. G. T. Collins and Dr. Grant, who has been in charge of the institution since the death of Dr. Lettwith. A final vote will be taken next Tuesday, when another applicant may come forward.

May Have Stolen Shoes.

Charles D. Harston and John W. Filppen, both colored, were arrested yesterday evening by Detective Sergeant McMahon charged with being suspected of breaking a window, entering a store on East Main Street and stealing a quantity of shoes. Further evidence will be produced this morning.

Teachers' Examinations.

Mr. Jackson Davis, superintendent of Henrico schools, has announced that the annual examination of applicants for positions in the county schools will begin to-morrow and end on Saturday. All those who are interested in the examination are requested to appear before Mr. Davis at the time stated.

Mayor McCarthy's annual message to the City Council will be sent to common Council at the meeting on Monday night. It will review conditions of the past year, and the Mayor believes will be helpful in explaining municipal affairs.

"Unholy Partnership" Between Railroads and Boat Company May Be Brought to Attention of Interstate Commission—New Wharf Plan Indorsed.

Declaring that there is sufficient evidence to prove beyond doubt that the Old Dominion Steamship Company is controlled by the railroads entering Richmond, Mr. N. W. Bowe, a prominent real estate agent, at a meeting held yesterday by committees appointed by four commercial organizations to consider the wharf and ship lock purchase proposition, urged that the matter be brought officially to the attention of the Interstate Commerce Commission, with a view to having "the unholy partnership" dissolved.

Inspected Property.

The statement did not need to create a sensation, for the reason that many business men had long heard of the combination.

The matter came up as a side issue in the plan to acquire ample docking facilities here for commerce generally. Representatives of the Business Men's Club, the Retail Merchants' Association and the Travelers' Protective Association met on the tug Thomas Cunningham, Sr., and formally organized a party to inspect the property. Mr. Henry W. Rountree as chairman, and Mr. H. L. Harwood as secretary. With committee members, the James River Improvement Committee, City Engineer Bolling and a number of invited guests, the party went down the river first inspecting the basin beginning at Seventeenth Street and the ship locks, the latter being a novelty to some of those aboard.

The tug stopped at Nicholson Street, opposite the high water stone on Lees Street, saw what the city is preparing to do in the matter of protecting that section from high water, and then steamed down the river along by the jetties which have helped to deepen the channel by the continual wash.

Meeting Held.

On the way back to the city a meeting was held on the upper deck. When the preliminaries had been concluded, Mr. Bowe suggested the adoption of a resolution to the effect that it was the sense of the meeting that the city acquire both properties, the basin and the locks.

Can Regulate Rates.

Mr. J. C. Freeman, of the James River Committee, did not see any danger in connecting the two public propositions. He said that he had recently reminded the general freight agent of the Old Dominion Steamship Company that the figures on dry goods had been steadily increased without explanation or reason.

"I told him," said Mr. Freeman, "that if a company did not do better we would charter a steamer and bring our freight into Richmond in bulk. It surprised him, and he wanted to know if it could be done."

"This plan to acquire the basin, the shiplocks and the locks means that the city own and control the commerce and thereby regulate rates by inviting a variety of lines into Richmond and giving them proper facilities after their boats arrive."

Although the commercial organizations are committed to the policy of the movement started by Captain John A. Curtis, who explained it in detail yesterday, the exact method of procedure will have to be determined at subsequent meetings. The idea of the members was to go over the water and the land, and obtain information which could be obtained by observation and not otherwise.

Starting at Seventeenth Street, the tug steamed slowly through the narrow basin channel to the shiplocks and waited there for after the mid-set, through the basin and locks.

It was shown, can be purchased for a reasonable sum—about $125,000—but it will require a large sum to develop it. Some of the business people were agreed that it would be a help in the end to bring the ship canal as far up town as possible. To couple this plan with the other would involve an expenditure of about $250,000. Very often during the evening it was declared that the former river company might be bought by united action and liberality here.

The program will be mapped out more in detail before a formal petition is presented to City Council. There are unlimited accommodations which are to-day no more than long and empty gulches along the river front.

Possibilities of Scheme.

City Engineer Bolling, Captain Curtis and others enlightened the committee by pointing out what has and what is being done, with some idea of the possibilities of the scheme as adopted and carried out. There was a large crowd of business men on the tug. The committee is composed of the following representatives from the four commercial organizations:

From the Chamber of Commerce: Captain John Landstreet, Frank Williams, W. T. Dabney, R. A. Duntion, John C. Freeman, T. M. Carrington, B. H. Ellington, R. G. Reynolds, B. M. Gwathmey and N. W. Bowe.

From the Retail Merchants' Association: A. H. Kaufmann, T. A. Miller, W. A. Clark, Samuel Cohen, L. O. Miller, C. O. H. Berry.

From the Business Men's Club: Col. V. O. Shelton, Jacob Gens, H. W. Rountree, L. O. Miller.

From the Travelers' Protective Association: George W. Rogers, W. K. Bache, B. L. Harwood, H. W. Rountree, E. H. Cloyes, C. D. Coleman, F. W. Brown and R. S. Christian.
